

PRO-DRY™

Typical High Absorption Calcined Clay Issues:

- Negative impact to infield profile
- Contains spoils of other materials, causing layering effects and caking
- When used for puddles, removal is necessary

The ProDry Solution:

- Highest absorption in our line of conditioners
- Can also be used on mounds, basepaths, and plate areas for a tight clean presentation or highly manicured look
- Fewer fines and dust prevents layering
- Designed to coexist with your infield mix without issue, just drag and walk away - no clean up necessary

Use as a stand-alone conditioner for a highly manicured clean appearance and for powerful absorption needs like standing water removal.
